

Proposition 65, officially known as the California Safe Drinking Water and Toxic Enforcement Act of 1986, aims to protect Californians from significant exposure to chemicals known to the state to cause cancer, birth defects, or reproductive harm. California Proposition 65 obligates businesses operating in California to provide clear and reasonable warnings before knowingly and intentionally exposing Californians to chemicals that are listed in Proposition 65 List.

Based upon the information available to us, some of our products contain Proposition 65 listed substances. While these chemicals are incorporated in some of our products, the normal/foreseeable use of the products involves no exposure route, such as contact with skin, being ingested with food or drink, or inhalation. For this reason, a warning label that our products contain chemicals that may cause cancer, birth defects, or reproductive harm is not required.

Businesses operating in California, that intend to use Inovonics products for uses other than those specified in Inovonics' product documentation and instructions, may cause risk of exposure to Proposition 65 chemicals if present.
